Applicant's election of the invention embodied in the apparatus claims and the species of Figures 1A-1B and 2, both elections without traverse, is acknowledged. Of the elected apparatus claims, applicant has identified apparatus claims 1-3, 21 and 22 as readable on the elected species of Figures 1A-1B and 2. Accordingly, claims 4-20 and 23-38 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to non-elected species and/or inventions. The election requirement is deemed proper and made final.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-3, 21 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As a preliminary matter, claim 1 contains a typographical error on line 9 (portion is misspelled as "potion"). More problematic is the failure of claim 1 to specify where the first and second sections of the core portion are relative to the other claimed structure. In the absence of any limitation on their location it appears that one can arbitrarily assign these sections to almost any location or locations, rendering claim 1 vague.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2, 3, 21 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Minami (USP 4,417,619).

In Minami (Figures 1-3) the tubes cross-over each other in the manner claimed. The claimed distributing portion and collector portion is formed by all of the tube crossovers from front to back taken collectively and all of the tube crossovers from back to front taken collectively, respectively from the various headers.

Claims 1, 2, 3, 21 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the prior art as applied to claims 1, 2, 3, 21 and 22 above, and further in view of Haussmann (USP 5,251,692).

To have replaced each of the tubes in Minami (Figures 1-3) with multi-bore tubes such as taught by Haussmann to improve heat exchange performance would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.
